New Tax Rate Means Slash Of 5½ Cents

Advisory Committee Says Board Did Good Job

Citing that the new county tax rate of $2.083 reflects a reduction of 5.5 cents per $100, the advisory committee of citizens headed by James B. Howell of Atherton reported that an analysis of contemplated expenditures for 1933-34 leads to the conclusion "that a satisfactory budget has been adopted."

The 5½-cent reduction is explained by taking away the 45-cent 1 mill increases for new items in the 1933-34 budget from the new rate of $2.083, bringing the basic rate to $1.632. This, compared to the basic rate of $1.687, abtained by subtracting $1.208 school taxes from the old rate of $2.895, is 5.5 cents lower.

The advisory committee reports that the total requirements of all county budget purposes for the fiscal year amount to $1,005,970. Included in the figure is an item of $136,718 for unemployment relief.

During the past year, the committee reports, the total requirements were $1,035,733, or $29,763 more than is provided for in the new budget. No provision for $136,718 of unemployment relief was made last year, for if it had been, the increase of last year's budget total over this one would have been $156,481, the committee points out.

During the past fiscal year, the county revenues from all sources amounted to $261,977, the committee continues. It is estimated that these revenues will amount to only $213,329 for the present year, making it necessary for the tax rate to be proportionately increased to make up the difference.

The assessed value of county property also declined, the committee reports, and the reduction in value of $1,313,729 further necessitates an increase in the tax rate to raise the same amount of money.

Continuing, the committee reports:

"The budget for the fiscal year 1932-33 and the present budget can easily be compared by taking into consideration the facts already mentioned. Had there been no necessity of providing additional funds for unemployment relief there would have been a reduction in the present tax rate of 30.8 cents; had county revenues been estimated at the same figure this year as last there would have been an additional reduction of 11 cents; and had the charges for the unemployment work relief bonds not been included there would have been a further reduction of 3.3 cents.

"These combined reductions would have made a total of 45.1 cents, or the tax rate for the present fiscal year would have been $1.632 as compared with $1.687 for the past year.

"The reduction in the assessed valuation of county property of itself increases the tax rate for the present year.

"There is thus indicated a reflected saving in the present budget of 5.5 cents. Had the same assessed valuation been used for the present year there would have been a reflected reduction of 9.4 cents. (These figures cited herein are taking into consideration the additional appropriations made for unemployment relief and the charges on the work relief bonds which must be included in this year's expenditures).

"The additional appropriation of $156,481 for unemployment relief cannot be questioned from a humanitarian standpoint and was absolutely necessary in order to receive allotments from the proceeds of the state relief bonds and

Incidents at Y Summer Camp in Park Recounted

Recounting human interest incidents in the Young Men's Christion Association summer camp at Memorial Park, Roy A. Hohberger, local Y secretary, was the speaker at Tuesday's dinner meeting of the Redwood City Exchange Club.

Mr. Hohberger described how Camp Yu-Mi-Ci-A has grown year by year, until the handling of the hundreds of boys seeking admission presents a real problem. He told how the confidence of the youths is won, and how emphasis is placed on character building.

Billy Dusel, son of Mayor and Mrs. William J. Dusel, gave a talk on life at the camp, and played two clarinet numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Hohberger.

Plan To Acquire Emerald Lake Playground Interests Council

Looking with favor on the proposal that the Emerald Lake golf course and playground be secured as the chief recreational center of Redwood City, the council last night determined unofficially to proceed with negotiations for acquiring the property.

Members of the council and City Manager E. A. Rolison have discussed the matter and Hall and Lee Ross, local attorneys who acquired the 41-acre playground at public auction recently, have been given a proposal which they are now studying.

Because the playground project did not come up in time for consideration in the budget, the city has limited funds to offer the Rosses at this time. It is therefore suggested that the city spend $1250 on the upkeep of the property during the next year, which would be a return of 5 per cent for the Rosses on their estimated $25,000 investment.

Meanwhile, the city could work out some plan for purchasing the property over a period of years or submitting the proposal to a special tax or other purchase plan at some future date.

To Pay Own Way

It is estimated that the city could operate the recreational center from the earnings which would accrue from the golf cource.

This was a feature which attracted the attention of Councilman Charles Lambert, who said that no other recreational scheme would offer any financial returns on the investment.

Councilman Paul McCarthy, seeing the advantages of recreational pursuits in the proposal for all citizens as well as golfers, expressed the belief that the opportunity to acquire the Emerald Lake property should not be lost.

The councilman urged the necessity of building some much-needed tennis courts on the property, if acquired.

Lambert said the course had a scenic beauty unmatched by San Mateo's new municipal course or by others, and that it would attract many new residents to Redwood City. He said the property could be secured at the mortgage instead of the market price, and that the rate of interest would be low.

The acquisition of the recreational center, suggested by The Tribune because of popular demand for an outdoor playground capable of taking care of the whole city, has "won a lot of public sentiment in its favor," Councilman Lambert said.

City Manager Rolison informed the council that the Belle Monti Country Club's course has been offered to the county as a similar recreational area.

Public Works Up

The city's proposal to borrow $20,000 from the public works program to build extensions to the Emerald Lake water system will come before NRA in San Francisco today, Rolison informed the council.

The extensions will pay for themselves out of earnings of the system, the manager said. It is hoped that Redwood City will be the first of the peninsula cities to secure approval of a project.

Urge One-Way Street

The Redwood City Promotion Association urged the making of Montgomery street from El Camino Real to California street as a one-way street. It is said the parking of huge trucks in the rear of Montgomery, Ward Company, for loading and unloading hindered two-way traffic.

It was agreed to place a stop sign in front of the Redwood Theatre to halt traffic going into California street as a safety precaution. The question of making Montgomery street a one-way thoroughfare was referred to Manager Rolison for his report.

To Erect Sign

The council approved the purchase of an electric sign bearing the name "Redwood City" at the Main street intersection with the Bayshore boulevard. It will cost $309 and has been provided for in the new budget.

The sign will be in blue letters instead of red as state highway officials oppose future use of the latter color. A green arrow will point toward Main street. The letters will be 14 inches high and the sign will be 14 feet long.

The council also approved the taking over of the "Emerald Lake" sign on El Camino Real at Jefferson avenue and will maintain it at a cost of $8 per month. Charles Holt relinquished his firm's interests in the sign.

Bond Default Studied

Attorney H. A. Postlethwaite of San Francisco urged the council to do something in regard to the default on the Series K-12 1915 improvement bonds held by J. F. Knapp of Oakland, which were issued on the Broadway extension project.

City Attorney Albert Mansfield advised the council that a case affecting the city's course on these bonds is now being adjudicated in the supreme court. The plea of the attorney was referred to him for action.

Grant Manhole Permit

The council approved the tearing up of the sidewalk area from Reinhard's store across Hamilton street and in front of the California Pacific Title office so that service may be extended to a manhole to be constructed in front of the new Montgomery, Ward store on Broadway.

Councilman McCarthy discussed a proposal with the board for installing a water softener plant in Redwood City.

Making of "U" turns at California and Broadway and at Perry and Broadway will be forbidden under a resolution adopted by the council.

The city accepted a deed to the rear ends of several lots acquired for the new postoffice site on Jefferson avenue, title to which was relinquished by Daniel Flynn and others.

Earth Broken For Big Store Of Ward Firm

Ground was broken Wednesday for the new store building which Montgomery Ward & Co. will occupy at 2317 Broadway.

Work was started following issuance of a permit by Building Inspector I. C. Drathman to Cahill Brothers, San Francisco contractors, to build a $65,000 structure. Owner of the building is David J. Davis. It will be of two stories and a basement, and built of concrete.

Excavation work is being done by W. O. Tyson, local contractor.

The Ward company has signed a lease for 20 years, from November 1, 1933, on the Foley property where the store will be built. The new store will be much larger than the present one, having approximately 30,000 square feet of floor space.

More than 100 men will be employed during the course of construction. It is planned to complete the building in 70 working days.

Fund Campaign For Y.M.C.A. to Be Next Week

Plans for the annual campaign for funds for the Young Men's Christian Association in Redwood City, starting with the "kick-off" dinner for workers on Monday evening of next week, are practically completed.

Under the direction of Harry E. Jenkins, local campaign chairman, the city has been divided into 16 districts, to which will be assigned teams of solicitors.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. in the communities on the peninsula is outstanding for boys and community recreation. It was started here nine years ago at the request of a number of the civic minded men of the community. From a small beginning of three clubs it has grown to thirteen clubs for boys and young men, and athletic and recreational groups of men and young men to the number of 22 during the past year in Redwood City alone.

Roy A. Hohberger will be the campaign director.

Sisevich Case Set for Trial On Sept. 21st

Mrs. Gladys Sisevich, wife of a San Mateo contractor, Tuesday pleaded "not guilty" to three counts preferred against her following an automobile-baby buggy mishap on the Bayshore highway in East Palo Alto July 20 which brought deaths to two.

The woman defendant appeared before Superior Judge Franklin Swart and demanded trial by jury. The date was set for September 21 at 10 a. m. Attorney Reed Clarke of Redwood City represented the defendant.

Mrs. Sisevich has been charged with driving while intoxicated and with manslaughter over the deaths of Mrs. Addaline Lyons, 38, East Palo Alto, and her baby, Nancy, 8 months' old.

State Officer Breaks Toe to Save Dog's Life

State Traffic Officer James C. Wallace of San Bruno was hobbling about his duties today with the aid of crutches after suffering a broken toe in a motorcycle spill near his home.

Wallace tried to avoid striking a dog which ran into his path. He skidded and the motorcycle fell over him. The foot was placed in a cast.

County Will Secure $32,045 Relief Fund

San Mateo county is eligible to receive $32,045 from the state and federal relief funds for the period ending September 30, R. A. Brannion, state relief director, informed Controller Edward Stack today.

The money will come to this county on a basis of 30 cents to the $1 for each dollar spent by the county during that quarter for its own relief needs.

New Card Series At Parish School

A new series of card parties will be started at Mt. Carmel parochial school next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, with the same routine as heretofore.

Mrs. Miles Sharkey and Mrs. C. L. Collins will be in charge.

LAND USE ORDINANCE TO GET LAST HEARING 18TH

Final hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance for Southern San Mateo county is on the calendar today for Monday, September 18, at 2 p. m., before the board of supervisors.

The board set the date Tuesday afternoon at the request of Ronald Campbell, technician in the employ of the county planning commission.

Petition of Emerald Lake residents for street improvements in that area met with the report by County Engineer James S. James that no funds have been set out for this work.

James said that the roads were in such shape that complete restoration from the bottom up would be necessary and that this would take some $10,000.

Supervisor John Poole of this district urged the necessity of finding some means of giving relief to the petitioners. The streets in question were dedicated to public use but have not been accepted by the county. James suggested that the return of the 40-cent county road tax will be the answer to the problem.

The petition of property owners of Palo Alto Park to have their streets accepted for public use and to be improved was denied at this time.

Petition to abandon a portion of a public road in Woodside Glens No. 2 as requested by Evelyn Mary Vaughn, W. W. Hendricks, A. C. Cleveland, Albert Palmtag and others, was set for hearing on September 25 at 2 p. m.

The proposal that the board rent the Dusel garage on Walnut street for a central corporation yard until the new one is constructed was filed for future reference.

Application of William Germain to keep five Dobermann Pinschers, all show dogs, on his place at Lemon and Santa Cruz avenues, Menlo Park, was laid over one week.

Hearing on the application of the Scavengers' Protective Union for a permit to dump garbage at Bayshore was continued to next week.

Salaries of county employes as fixed in the temporary ordinance adopted two months ago were fixed as permanent for the current year.

Beer Garden In Menlo Oaks Banned By Co.

Warm Arguments in Case Heard By Supervisors

"Canfield Gardens," the Menlo Oaks beer garden described as popularized by Stanford University professors and collegians and Palo Alto officials, is under a closing ban of the board of supervisors today.

The board, after a lengthy and heated debate here yesterday afternoon which saw tears and nearfisticuffs among some of the women principals, revoked the license of Mrs. Helen L. Canfield to sell soft drinks and denied her plea for a beer permit while granting 100 others.

Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City, who said he had warned Mrs. Canfield not to turn her large Menlo Oaks estate into a beer garden, moved that the licenses be revoked and denied. Supervisor Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, seconded the motion.

The board voted unanimously, but the members did not put themselves on individual record in a poll as requested by Attorney H. D. Durst on behalf of Mrs. Canfield. Attorney D. E. Sullivan also argued in favor of granting the beer license to Mrs. Canfield.

Attorney George Whitworth of Palo Alto led the opposition forces, representing some 80 to 90 protestants.

Judge Is Opposed

Among these were former Justice Charles Shurtleff, whose place adjoins the Canfield estate, and August Taylor, of Menlo Park.

Taylor, peninsula society figure whose place is across the street from the Flood estate and about one mile from Canfield Gardens, said he was tired of being a "signpost directing inquirers to the beer garden." He said he quiet of his estate was disturbed by these persons, some of whom gave indications of laboring under the influence of a "jag," he said.

Attorney Whitworth cited as objections to the place the dance music, speeding automobiles, tooting horns and "petting parties," and called the beer garden in that location "a misdirected commercial enterprise."

Disturbance Alleged

He said the college crowd, plus beer "exhilarating to a degree," and with the "moon as the principal light," made up a combination which disturbed the "solitude" of what was intended, he said, as a restricted residential tract.

Judge Shurtleff, who early frowned upon the beer garden but said he would not object if all his neighbors approved, said that Mrs. Shurtleff, who has been ill, has spent "many a sleepless night since the beer garden opened."

Attorney Sullivan drew the fire of Judge Shurtleff when he cited that the jurist's estate housed "a Japanese colony."

Judge Shurtleff explained that he hired a Japanese servant 22 years ago and that the Japanese married and his wife became a domestic in the home and has been there for 17 years. To them have been born four children, and the jurist said he would "pit those children against any child in the neighborhood."

Questions Right

Attorney Durst said the board had no right to bar the commercial enterprise as no zoning ordinance exists. This was answered by Whitworth when he said that the board had adopted a temporary zoning ordinance for that area prior to the establishment of the beer garden.

The Canfield attorney attacked the manner in which the soft drink permit was revoked and said Mrs. Canfield was entitled to a hearing.

Supervisor Poole said that since the beer garden has been opened he has been "harassed" by complaints.

The petition of protest, filed with the board, was circulated by Hazel M. Flanders and bore the signatures of Judge Shurtleff, Eliot G. Mears, Wilson Ellis and some 80 others.

Harbor Plans Progressing, C. C. Reports

Traffic and Tonnage Survey Is Being Conducted

L. D. Kennedy, 525 Hyde street, San Francisco, has been engaged by the San Mateo County Board of Harbor Commissioners to make the traffic and tonnage report required by the government in connection with the application for self-liquidating loans under the public works program.

Kennedy will be assisted by several well-known traffic men of the bay area who are interested in the San Mateo county harbor project. The report will deal with the expected tonnage and earnings of the proposed deep water harbor.

Percy J. Shaw, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Harbor Commissioners, who has been in the east for the past month, returned a few days ago and is now actively heading the work looking toward securing the necessary self-liquidating loan from the government.

Dock Plans Drawn

The office of County Engineer James S. James is completing the plans for dock and transit shed. The proposed dock will be 450 feet in length and the transit shed will be 300 by 150 feet. These plans must be submitted to Col. T. M. Robbins, division engineer, rivers and harbors, San Francisco. If the application for the necessary loan is acted upon favorably by the United States Interior Department it is believed that the actual work on the harbor project can be started within three months.

McGrath Interested

Congressman John J. McGrath, in a letter to the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, on the subject of the harbor says, "I have your letter of August 31, and am pleased that things are moving satisfactorily on the harbor project. Of course, you know should you need me in the presentation to Mr. Wardell, I will be happy to go along. Whenever anything turns up, please let me know because I am so interested in the Redwood harbor now that I should regret all my life if anything upset this development."

Hartley Will Verdict Taken To High Court

The jury verdict setting aside the will of Mrs. Jennie E. Hartley, late Redwood City educator, was appealed today to the state supreme court by counsel for the Bank of America Trust and Savings Association.

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt on August 25 denied the bank a new trial. The jury found that the will was written by Mrs. Hartley while under the influence of Carl E. Wagner, former local banker, whose children benefitted from a $40,000 scholarship fund.

The Misses Dollie and Birdie Bacon of Redwood City, and J. B. Bacon, cousins, brought the contest.

ROAD WAGES PAYABLE; WORK WILL NOT HALT

DECLARING that "no person has any right to stop the ordinary functioning of county government," District Attorney Edmund Scott today circumvented efforts to halt the road and relief program of San Mateo county.

Scott instructed County Auditor Edward M. Stack that the old practice of having the supervisors approve the claims should be resorted to as well as the new procedure so that the expenditures will be lawful either under the general law or the new charter.

Attorney R. J. O'Connor, representing a local foe of the charter, John Reuter, sought to tie up Stack's hands so that no claims for road wages or materials could be paid until the state supreme court had ruled on the legality of a disputed charter point.

The tie-up would have seriously affected some 300 employes had Scott not determined upon the plan of the double approval of claims so that one or the other will be lawful.

County Engineer James S. James said that the engineering and relief programs can now proceed at a near maximum capacity with the 250 unemployed and 50 regular employes on the roads proceeding with their jobs.

The only effect of Reuter's efforts will be to bar some 60 jobless men who had promises of employment if James could purchase the new machinery contemplated in the new budget.

This machinery will probably not now be purchased, James said, until the supreme court rules on the road centralization plan.

Stack, however, is willing to pay any claims for capital expenditures if the supervisors approve them under general law, further circumventing Reuter's efforts to block the road and relief program.

Scott's letter to Controller Stack reads:

No person has any right to stop the ordinary functioning of county government. One of the principal functions in such government is the maintenance and repairs of roads and highways. Ordinarily such functions rests with the board of supervisors but the charter of the county of San Mateo has attempted to place special duties upon the county engineer. For instance, it is required that all claims for road work be approved by the county engineer and county executive.

In our opinion, if the procedure provided for by the charter is followed, to-wit, the approval of such claims by the executive and engineer, and in the case of the expenditure of money for the purchase of materials, by the purchasing agent, and in addition thereto such expenditures, both for labor and materials, are approved by the board of supervisors, then no one can complain of any irregularity.

If such procedure is followed, we are not only following the directions of the charter but we are also following the general law which gives the supervisors the right to expend money for roads and highways.

State School Growth Cited As Unmatched

By ROY W. CLOUD
Secretary, California Teachers' Association

School workers, being close to the subject, naturally realize the tremendous progress made by California schools during the past 30 years. But it may reasonably be that many citizens, while realizing how the schools have grown in their local communities, have no definite picture of the entire state.

California's ratio of educational growth has probably never been paralleled in a similar period in any state in the union.

In the school year 1899-1900 the state enrollment in elementary schools was 257,557; in 1909-1910, it was 322,361; in 1919-1920, it was 387,899 and in 1931-32, it had reached 779,772, or an increase, in the last decade alone, of more than one quarter of a million pupils.

In the high schools the figures climb even more spectacularly. In 1899-1900 the total enrollment was 12,179; in 1909-1910, it was 39,115; in 1919-1920, it was 162,832, and in 1931-32 it was 665,308, an increase of 400 per cent in the last decade alone.

With the last decade, too, have developed the junior colleges with a total enrollment in 1931-32 of 25,493 students in 36 localities.

The last official figures available, 1931-32, give California, in kindergarten, elementary, high school and junior college enrollment, a grand total of 1,470,473—or nearly one-fourth of the total population of the state.

Davises Leave Here For Modesto Home

Mrs. B. Davis and her daughters, Miss Grace and Miss Irene Davis, former residents of Redwood City, have returned to their home in Modesto, after spending three months here. Miss Grace Davis is vice-principal of the Modesto high school and her sister is head of the economic department of the same school. Both are Stanford graduates. The late Mr. Davis was at one time editor and owner of the Redwood City Democrat.

McSweeney Attends Funeral In Nevada

Tax Collector McSweeney and Mrs. A. McSweeney departed for Nevada late Wednesday evening to attend the funeral of Mrs. McSweeney's sister-in-law. She died suddenly. The deceased was an old resident of the Silver state.

'THE OCTOROON' WILL BE GIVEN HERE TWO NIGHTS

Offering for the first time a production on two nights, El Camino Players will present the five-act melodrama, "The Octoroon," on Friday and Saturday evenings, September 15 and 16, in the auditorium of the McKinley school on Duane street.

Dates for the performances were announced today by the director, Reidar Torjussen, who is staging his first play here after serving for nearly two years as director of the Palo Alto Community Players.

An Old Favorite

Revival of "The Octoroon," written in the '50s by Dion Boucicault, in this city is looked forward to by many theater-goers for the reason that the famous play has not been staged in the past several decades—yet it was one of the big successes of the Civil War era.

Written in 1859, "The Octoroon" is regarded as a fine example of the period when "After Dark," "Ten Nights in a Barroom" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" were playing to grandparents of the present generation.

A cast of 25 is rehearsing "The Octoroon," and there is to be a grand array of apparel reminiscent of the days when women filled a place in the world twice as large as that of today. Such feminine accoutrements as billowing dresses with wasp waists, shawls and poke bonnets, and men's full-skirted coats of green, blue, brown and gray over bright waistcoats in plaids and flower designs, with top hats and handlebar mustachios will adorn the large group of players, including some of the more prominent residents of the city.

Costumes Interesting

So interested in the costuming of the play are many local people that they are loaning appropriate apparel and accessories for the occasion. Those having quaint dresses and other clothing of the Civil War period stored away in their attics and desiring to grant to the players' club the use of it for "The Octoroon" may notify Mrs. C. I. Rider at Redwood 719-R or Mrs. Ida Furbush at Palo Alto 8704.

Incidentally tickets for the play are being sold at 25 cents each because of the prospects of playing to full houses on both nights.

Jurors Oppose Business Head For Hospital

Delving into costs of maintaining the county-operated Community Hospital, the San Mateo County Grand Jury at its meeting here yesterday afternoon is reported to have decided against the plan to hire a business manager for the institution.

Dr. C. V. Thompson, Burlingame, chairman of the board of supervisors, recently expressed an opinion that the salary of the business manager could be saved many times over if one were appointed.

The jury, it is reported, also opposed the appointment of a superintendent of social services. Both jobs would pay about $3,000 yearly.

San Mateo Will Eye Burlingame's Utility Efforts

SAN MATEO, Sept. 7. — City councilmen of San Mateo have agreed to watch Burlingame's efforts to acquire the electric distribution system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

William Claus, Beresford Park, suggested that San Mateo give consideration to a similar proposal because of the advantages of securing the utility's profits for the city's benefits.

GOING TO ORIENT

SAN MATEO, Sept. 4.—The Rev. Mark Falvey, S. J., son of Mrs. J. B. Falvey of 818 B street, leaves today for Shanghai, where he will teach at Gonzaga, an American college. As a farewell to his parishioners of St. Claire's parish, Santa Clara, a solemn high mass was celebrated Sunday.

Many will mourn the death of Clay M. Greene, the grand old man of the American theater. Greene graduated from Santa Clara University in 1869 at the age of 19 and immediately began his career as a playwright and actor.

Greene was the author of the Passion Play presented four times at the university. He loved his alma mater and dedicated the play to it. It is considered one of the best ever written. Late in life he returned to his beloved city by the Golden Gate.

Greene was born in San Francisco in 1850, six months before California was admitted to the Union. His father, Colonel William Greene, was a president of the city's first board of aldermen.

2 Boys Drown In Alum Rock Pool Near S.J.

A Colma lad and his San Francisco playmate paid with their lives Monday night for taking an extra swim in the Alum Rock pool at San Jose after the lifeguard had ordered them out of the tank a few minutes before.

James Filippi, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Filippi, Box 266, Hillside road, Colma, and George Cronin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cronin, 573 Anderson street, San Francisco, are the drowned boys.

Relatives who waited outside the pool for the two boys to appear broke into the place and attacked Lifeguard Theodore Simard and Superintendent Ernest Ward when notified of the double tragedy. Simard was knocked unconscious.

Four boys, in swimming from about 4:15 p. m., were ordered out of the pool by Lifeguard Simard at 5 o'clock. They went into the dressing room and began dressing. The older lads completed dressing first and left the dressing room, telling the two younger boys to hurry out.

Accident Not Witnessed

Simard, who saw the younger boys were almost dressed, went about his nightly task of cleaning up towels and his other duties. At 6 o'clock, when he began the cleaning up of the boys' dressing room, he found two outfits of boys' clothing. He immediately summoned Ward, park superintendent. Together they dragged the floor of the pool with grappling hooks, recovering the bodies.

It is believed by police that the two, seeing their brothers gone and the lifeguards out of the way, undressed again, donned their wet suits and went for another swim.

Efforts by San Jose firemen to resuscitate the two boys failed.

In all, there are fifty-two classes open to entrants, with ample cash prizes, awards and trophies for winners. A horse show luncheon will be held between shows on Sunday.

NRA District Conference is Called in S. F.

Redwood City and San Mateo county leaders in NRA activity have been invited to attend the first district-wide meeting of all NRA field workers in the nine central coast counties, to be held at the William Taylor Hotel, San Francisco, at 10:30 on Tuesday, September 12.

All county chairmen, city chairmen, women's chairmen, chamber of commerce officials and other executive heads have been called to the meeting at the request of George Creel, district chairman, and Mrs. Clara Hellman Heller, state women's chairman, who will be in charge of the session.

The purpose of the meeting is to plan organizational phases of the final stages of the NRA drive. With the initial stages of the campaign virtually completed, a vast amount of work remains to be done by the local organizations, and this work is to be mapped out on Tuesday.

The session is to be held in connection with the central coast council meeting of the California State chamber of commerce which will meet at 10 o'clock on Tuesday at the same place. Committeemen representing agriculture, industry, conservation, highways and publicity, will be present, from San Luis Obispo county to Contra Costa county.

A. E. Roth, Stanford University, regional director of the state chamber, will preside at the state chamber session and will open the NRA conference.

from the relief grant of the federal government. Under the present rulings all sums appropriated by the county for relief purposes are matched dollar for dollar by the state, and from the federal government there is received 33 1-3 per cent of all sums appropriated for relief purposes.

"Under the above conditions the commission is of the opinion that a satisfactory budget has been adopted.

"The present county charter has not and cannot materially affect the budget either by decreasing or increasing the same due to the fact that none of the savings contemplated thereunder can be effective for at least one year.

"In this connection it should be noted that the county of San Francisco under the charter received no benefits in the beginning but that the taxpayers are now enjoying the lowest rate since 1920.

"A great many taxpayers have been of the opinion that the charter would insure an immediate reduction in the tax rate; as already pointed out, the savings under the charter will begin when its various provisions have become effective.

"It should also be thoroughly understood that all sums of money expended in the road program, including the purchase of new equipment and the construction of a central garage, are not derived from the tax levy, but are derived direct from the gasoline tax and cannot be expended for any other purpose than for the road department, and expenditures in the road department do not have any effect on the tax rate.

"In conclusion it is the opinion of the commission that when the taxpayers of the county receive their tax bills they will be agreeably surprised."

TWO ESCAPE CREMATION IN BLAZING OIL TRUCK

Two men narrowly escaped cremation late Saturday night when a 10-ton truck careened off the Bayshore highway south of Palo Alto and its highly inflammable cargo of paints, oils and turpentine burst into flames.

The blast of the turpentine barrels rattled houses in Mountain View and Palo Alto and caused persons to believe that an earthquake had occurred.

The driver, William H. Combs, of Los Angeles, and his employer, L. G. Shaw, of Ventura, fought their way out of the steel cab as the blazing cargo fell about them.

Shaw suffered a bruised hip while Combs was uninjured.

Danger of recurring minor blasts as other barrels of paint materials exploded and the intense heat of the blaze tied up both north and southbound traffic on the Bayshore highway for more than an hour while the fire fiercely burned itself out.

The metal cab of the truck protected the two men from being sprayed with the burning oil. The truck and cargo was a complete loss.

Combs laid the accident to trouble with the steering mechanism.

Noted Stanford Alumnus to Build $15,400 Home Near Sharon Estate

The long-cherished desire of a Stanford alumnus to return to the scenes of his under-graduate days, and to establish his permanent residence in the proximity of the university, was on its way to fulfillment today with the filing at the office of the San Mateo county recorder of a building contract between Hutton Webster, now of Coronado, as owner, and Arthur Payne, Redwood City, as contractor, for the construction of a residence. The consideration named in the contract is $15,400.

Dr. Webster, who was assistant in economics at Stanford from 1899 to 1900, was professor of social anthropology at the University of Nebraska from 1907 to 1929, and is the author of 15 text books of ancient, medieval and modern history for high school and colleges. He recalls that the starting of the building operation falls, almost to a day, upon the fortieth anniversary of his initial arrival in Palo Alto to enter Stanford—and that the latter event occurred at a time of great economic stress when the fate of the new university hung in the balance.

The building site is a two and one-half acre tract bordering on the Sharon estate in the vicinity of the Alameda de las Pulgas and the Sandhill road, and was purchased by Dr. Webster from an old Stanford friend, Prof. Clarke B. Whittier of the Stanford law department.

Although of wood construction, with wood finish for both exterior and interior walls throughout, the house is to be reminiscent of the early American buildings in Monterey. Special attention has been given to the earthquake-resisting features of the construction by the architects, Myron Hunt and H. C. Chambers, Los Angeles, architects of the beautiful Pasadena Public Library and recently chosen as members of the architectural board for the proposed new $15,000,000 Los Angeles county court house. Central Road Control Enemy Wins Hearing

Possibility that the San Mateo county charter may have to be revised in part was indicated today by District Attorney Edmund Scott, who explained the grounds upon which Jack Reuter, Redwood City man and head of the San Mateo County Taxpayers' Protective Association, secured an alternative writ of mandamus ordering the supervisors to show cause why they should not be compelled to take back their individual control of road districts.

Reuter secured the writ, returnable October 3, from the state supreme court in San Francisco after having been turned down in a previous attempt. He is being represented by Raymond J. O'Connor.

Scott's information, furnished purely to inform the public, is based on the state constitution, which says that all county charters must abide by the general law of California. The general law specifies that supervisors shall have control of road districts, and it is this point that Reuter is using in his attempt to force the supervisors to go back to the old control, which was discarded in the interests of economy and efficiency when the charter became effective July 1.

County Engineer James S. James was non-committal. He said that he would proceed with his duties until such time as the state supreme court ordered him to stop.

S. F. to Vote on Municipal Power Bonds Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7 (UP)—Voters of San Francisco will be asked to consider two separate bond proposals as part of the NRA public works program, the board of supervisors agreed last night after long debate.

The projects are: (1) construction of the Red Mountain bar power house, $1,000,000, and (2) construction of municipally-owned power distribution system in San Francisco plus Red Mountain bar power house, $6,308,000.

Mayor Angelo Rossi favored separating the issues.

Gold Holdings Must Be Reported Now

The president's executive order of August 28, 1933, requires that all persons, partnerships, associations and corporations who have gold coin, gold bullion or gold certificates in their possession must report their holdings to the collector of internal revenue at San Francisco or one of his deputy collectors on or before September 18, 1933.

In every case where such holdings are owned by one person and in the possession of another, two returns must be filed relative thereto—one by the owner and one by the person in possession of the holdings.

Penalties for failure to make and file a return as required by the executive order are, upon conviction, a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or both.

LOCAL EMPLOYMENT HAS GAIN OF 35 UNDER NRA

STATEMENTS were furnished today to the Washington office of the national recovery administration showing an increase in employment in the Redwood City district since the NRA was put into effect of 35 people.

This means a total increase in payroll of $2800 per month. The survey from which these figures were derived was made by the local NRA committee at the request of County Chairman Henderson. In some cases local plants have taken on considerable new help due to seasonal activities. These men will be laid off as soon as the seasonal operations are finished. Inasmuch as these workmen were not hired directly because of the operation of the NRA they are not included in the estimates furnished to the government. In some cases new employes put on as a result of the NRA are working only part time. As a consequence the total monthly increase in payroll is somewhat smaller than might be expected by an increase of 35 employes.

At a special meeting of the local committee held Wednesday at the chamber of commerce office, recommendations were made to County Chairman Henderson for a board of three to be known as the NRA adjustment board for the southern part of San Mateo county. The appointments were made by Chairman Henderson and are announced as follows: J. D. Hedge, chairman; Mrs. Z. T. Thorning and A. E. Lueger, secretary of the carpenters' union. Chairman Hedge will call a meeting of his committee within a few days to make preparation for the handling of complaints in the southern part of the county. It is announced by Chairman Hedge that complaints must be made in writing and should be sworn before a notary. All legitimate complaints will be carefully investigated and acted upon as promptly as possible.

JOHNSON'S FIRM HIT

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7 (UP)—Lea Fabrics, Inc., of which Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, is president, is facing a charge that it is not living up to the NRA code.

The allegations were in a letter written on the stationery of the International Carpet Workers' Union, Newark, over the signature of Eric Ross, as secretary-treasurer.

Ross said he telegraphed to President Roosevelt, General Johnson, Secretary of Labor Perkins, and the NRA labor board, charging that Lea Fabrics, Inc., violated the code by discharging one Herbert Smalley, after he took an active part in union organization work, and by reducing working time from 48 hours to 40 hours without continuing pay that would give the employes the total they had been receiving for 48 hours.

Ellery Files, vice president and general manager of the plant, said: "This is a radical outfit and it sees a chance to get a lot of free publicity because General Johnson happens to be our president. The charges are without foundation."

Solicitors for Y.M.C.A. Lining Up Over County

Harry E. Jenkins, chairman of the Redwood City finance campaign for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, reported today that 32 men have agreed to participate in the solicitation which will start the first of next week. Before the "kick-off" meeting, which will be held on Monday evening, it is hoped to have 100 workers.

Under the general leadership of Charles A. Buck, mayor of Burlingame, the organizations in the various communities of the peninsula are rapidly being completed. J. O. Klein is the chairman in Burlingame, J. H. Acheson in San Mateo, Floyd Tower in San Bruno, George Davis in Millbrae, and C. A. Robbins in South San Francisco.

Redwood City has held the honor of being first to reach its goal in its competition with Burlingame and San Mateo since the inception of the work here and the committee is putting forth every effort to get such a strong organization this year that it will be able to secure the needed funds in an even shorter time.

Utility District Directors Target Of Ouster Move

Removal of the present board of directors of the Brisbane Public Utility District or the calling of an election for that purpose was requested before the board of supervisors on Monday by the Voters' League of Brisbane because of alleged illegal acts by the board.

The protest is made that the directors failed to call an election in May, 1933, for the purpose of electing directors. It is also charged that the board has not abided by the wishes of the district but is looking out for the interests of a realty firm.

Directors are Fred Coffin, Amos Kinney and Zeno Davis, and suggested alternates are F. Garke, T. Slater and J. Lorendo.

Hog deaths from cholera dropped from 130 per 1000 hogs a few years ago to 28 per 1000 in 1932.

Thirty million copies of the Bible are printed every year.

The American Automobile Association reports that about 250,000 automobiles were stolen during 1932, and that about 90 per cent of these were recovered.
